Maia Dombey Joins Litigation Firm Kluger, Kaplan, Silverman, Katzen & Levine

MIAMI, FL—Kluger, Kaplan, Silverman, Katzen & Levine, P.L., South Florida’s preeminent boutique litigation firm, has added associate Maia Dombey, who will focus her practice on complex commercial litigation.

Prior to joining the firm, Maia worked as a law clerk at a boutique litigation firm in Miami and assisted on large scale litigation and mediation matters including class action lawsuits, commercial disputes, and wrongful death. Previously, Maia interned with the Anti-Defamation League in New York and the United Nations Watch in Geneva Switzerland, where she delivered a statement to the UN Human Rights Council and conducted research and writing on various international human rights issues.

Maia graduated Cum Laude as a Miami Scholar from the University of Miami School of Law.
